what do I need to do first?

Once you have collected the death certificate from the registrar you will need to contact a funeral director.

how do I find one?

This leaflet includes a list of local funeral directors, but you can find a more comprehensive list in the Yellow Pages.

how will I know if they are good?

The best way is through recommendation. You may have heard positive things about a firm from friends or colleagues.

do I need to take anything to the funeral director?

You will need to take the green form which the registrar gave you.

how much does a funeral cost?

An average funeral costs between £2,500 - £4,000, depending on what you want. The funeral director will give you a breakdown of the costs.

what if I don't have enough money?

If the person arranging the funeral is on any means tested benefits, such as Income Support or Pension Credit, they may be entitled to help from the Benefits Agency's social fund.

If the deceased or remaining spouse is under state pensionable age, a benefit may also be available for the remaining husband or wife.

how do I access these benefits?

Our Benefits & Entitlements team may be able to help. Contact them on 01252 729430.

who can officiate at the funeral?

Anyone can officiate at a funeral. Phyllis Tuckwell's Chaplains, Sue Lattey and Jill Thornton, are able to officiate if you would like one of them to. Alternatively, your funeral director can arrange for a Minister of your choice to officiate.

what if the deceased did not follow a religion?

Our Chaplains can officiate at non-religious ceremonies, as our Pastoral Care team - which consists of ordained Anglican and Interfaith Ministers - works with people of all faiths and none. Alternatively, your funeral director can arrange for a Humanist or Independent Celebrant to officiate.

what if I want an 'eco friendly' coffin?

The Chaplains in the Patient and Family Support team have some brochures on 'eco friendly' coffins. Alternatively your funeral director may be able to help you with this.

do you know anything about woodland burial sites?

Yes, there are two sites locally, one at East Meon in Hampshire and another in Guildford, Surrey. The Chaplains in the Patient and Family Support team have more details.

what sort of things will I need to decide on?

You will need to decide:

- what type of coffin you want,
- whether you want a burial or a cremation,
- if you want a cremation, what you might do with the ashes,
- where you are going to hold the service,
- whether you want flowers or donations to a charity,
- how many funeral cars you will need,
- the Order of Service and what hymns or music you want,
- what readings you want,
- what the deceased will wear.

can donations from the funeral go to Phyllis Tuckwell?

We would be grateful for any donations - please call our Fundraising team on 01252 729446 for more details.

Below and overleaf is a selection of local funeral directors. Please note that these are not recommendations, and that others are also available.
