You may wish to understand your treatment more clearly. You may have a concern or worry about your treatment or you may wish to seek a second opinion.

Why do I need to access my health care records?

The form ensures that we have the information we need to deal quickly with your request. We aim to reply within 15 working days with an appointment for you to see your medical records. Not everyone gets an appointment. For example, they might be posted out to the requester.

Do I have the right to see my medical records?

Yes, if you do not wish other people to have access to your health records, you can tell us and we will write it in your notes. A person who can prove they have the right to see your notes will be allowed access to your medical records.

Will I have access to all my health records?

Yes, most of the time you will be entitled to view all your health records.

Is there any reason I may not have access to all parts of my records?

Yes, if your medical records contain information that could harm your physical and mental health, they will be withheld. If someone who should remain anonymous is mentioned in your records, you will not be allowed access to that part of your notes.

First speak to the professional person involved in your care. If you are not satisfied, please write to the Phyllis Tuckwell Medical Director. If you are still not satisfied, please write to the Chief Executive.

Factual information can be corrected. We cannot change notes that are already written. We can add into the record a note stating the correction requested and whether the professional involved agrees. We will give you a copy of this.

Who should I speak to if I am not happy with what has been written in my records?

First speak to the professional person involved in your care. If you are not satisfied, please write to the Phyllis Tuckwell Medical Director. If you are still not satisfied, please write to the Chief Executive.

Can I prevent other people having access to my notes?

Yes, if you do not wish other people to have access to your health records, you can tell us and we will write it in your notes. A person who can prove they have the right to see your notes will be allowed access to your medical records.

Can I ask for corrections to be made to my records?

Factual information can be corrected. We cannot change notes that are already written. We can add into the record a note stating the correction requested and whether the professional involved agrees. We will give you a copy of this.

will I be charged a fee?
A fee of £10 will be payable for copies of computer records and a fee of up to £50 for copies of paper records or a combination of both electronic and paper records. This is to cover the costs of photocopying and postage.

will I be given help to understand the records?
We will explain anything in the records that you do not understand. If you are unable to read or see, you may like a friend or family member to help you. If English is not your first language, you may also have help. If you need an interpreter, we can give you information on how to get hold of one.

which health records can Phyllis Tuckwell provide?
We can provide access to our records made by Phyllis Tuckwell.

We keep our records for at least eight years. If you would like to access other records, you will have to apply to the organisations that hold them.
